Now tell me you don't want this book after seeing this page...

Dear Santa,

Please make sure that The Super Adventures of Sophie and the City is waiting for me under the tree this Christmas! And while you're at it, would you mind throwing one under the tree for my aunts, cousins and gorgeous nieces? This is one book absolutely every woman who loves fashion will adore! Thanks!

The Fashion Goose!

For those of you that don't believe in Santa Clause (shame on you) and want to make sure you pick up this book, it's available at Barney's in NYC and online! The picture book is written by Kelly Florio Kasouf whose father, Steve Florio, was President and C.E.O. of Conde Nast for 10 years! Kelly grew up within the four walls of Conde Nast and now draws from her own experiences in putting together this wonderful children's book! Who hasn't imagined growing up with the Vogue closet at your disposal?! Heaven!!! {images via Barneys}
